

By Simon Phun

Be a man of mystery

Jabra BT530 USB

SGD190 - www.jabra.com

Using what they call the Noise Blackout technology, this Jabra BT530 USB Bluetooth headset suppresses background noise. It does it so well that the person on the other end of the call will be able hear the caller's voice clearly and not be able to tell what's going on behind. Just how good is it? Well, loud industrial aircond compressors at the caller's background will only sound like a low, warm buzzing sound. Ambient music and voices could hardly be heard. Besides mobile phones, the Jabra BT530 is also made to be used with a computer as it comes with a USB Bluetooth dongle that is pre-synchronised with the headset. Getting it to work is sheer plug and play.

Verdict

The BT530 is a clear reason why Jabra is pretty much ahead of the pack in Bluetooth headsets. Highly recommended.

